

5

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The invention relates to an electrostatic
10 actuation device comprising:

- one electrode, called the mobile electrode, comprising at least one mobile part with respect to a substrate,
- at least two electrodes fixed with 15 respect of the substrate, located on the same side of the mobile electrode and each facing a part of the mobile electrode,
- means forming at least one pivot with at least of portion of the mobile electrode

20